ACT I

City Park

Two kids are pushing and shoving each other on the playground.

Cherubs are hiding under a park bench.

Cherubs crawl out from under bench and sneak up behind kids. Each cherub pulls a red heart from a red pouch draped over their shoulders like a bag of arrows.

Bag is filled with hearts with various adjectives written on them. Think Dwarfs, Smurfs, or Care Bears.

Anyone who is "Smitten" by the Cherubs begin to act like the word on their back.

(smiling from ear to ear)

Well, thank you, I found it in the park a few days ago. It might be yours, do you want it?

PENNY

Oh, thank you for asking. I haven't been to the park in awhile. I lost my ball a long time ago.

Maybe that isn't the best after-school snack recipe. What would you like, honey?

YURI

That's okay, Mommy. Let me try it!

Yuri tries the ice cream.

Yummy! My tummy likes it.

Cherubs swirl around, dropping hearts all around as if they were rose petals.
